The Care Home
Activity Pack

www.birchallordermate.co.uk

Welcome to our activity pack

At Birchalls, we understand the challenges caterers face when trying to engage, stimulate and entertain their residents. And we know that care home teams have a huge amount of responsibilities, from caring for residents and providing nutritious meals, to dealing with the financial side of running a care home and providing enriching social interactions for residents.

Hopefully, this bumper pack will provide plenty of inspiration and ideas for your team that help you save some time when planning social activities for your residents.

We welcome your feedback

This is the first pack of this kind that we've created at Birchalls, so we're keen to know our customer's thoughts. If you have some feedback about how we could improve this pack for future editions, then please drop us an email at marketing@birchallfoodservice.co.uk.

Theme day activities

Religious holidays, foodie events and patron saint days provide the perfect opportunity for you to celebrate and have a little fun with your residents.

If you're stuck for ideas about making the most of some of the key theme days in 2025, then here are some tips.

Valentine's Day

Get crafty

Create pink, red and white heart-themed decorations and scatter these around the communal areas in your home. You could even encourage residents to create Valentine's Day cards for their loved ones.

Romantic dining

Prepare a special dinner with a romantic menu, complete with candlelight and music.

Movie night

Show a classic love story or a heartwarming comedy and serve heart-shaped snacks and treats as the residents watch.

LHC Love Heart Cake

Mother's Day

Afternoon tea with loved ones

Host a special afternoon tea event where residents can invite their families. This creates a loving, social atmosphere that both the residents and their loved ones will appreciate.

Flower arranging activities

Offer a variety of flowers and help residents create their own bouquets. This activity is therapeutic, encourages creativity, and produces decorations that can be displayed around your home.

Wall of memories

Create a dedicated space where residents and their families can display cherished photos, letters and other keepsakes. This 'wall' can act as a visual celebration of motherhood and will sparks conversations and encourage residents to reminisce.

Products we recommend

060084095

Tipiak Heart Shaped Macarons

061508052

Country Range Mini Cake Assortment

Easter

Easter egg hunt

This classic activity can be adapted for different mobility levels. You could hide eggs around a communal area or garden, or even have a “hunt” within a single room for those with limited mobility.

Easter bonnet parade

Encourage residents to get creative and decorate their own bonnets with colourful decorations like flowers, ribbons, and chicks. Then, hold a parade where they can show off their creations.

Baking & decorating treats

Get residents involved in baking traditional Easter treats like hot cross buns or chocolate nests.

Father's Day

A hearty family meal

A special meal, whether it's a traditional roast, a barbecue (weather permitting), or a favourite dish requested by the residents, is a great way to celebrate. Encourage families to join in, creating a warm and social atmosphere.

Live entertainment or music

Arrange for a local musician or entertainer to perform music that resonates with the residents' generation. This could be a sing-along, a performance of classic songs, or even a themed performance related to fatherhood or family.

'Dad's Shed' or 'Man Cave' experience

Create a dedicated space within the care home that evokes the atmosphere of a traditional shed or “man cave.” This could involve displaying tools, sports memorabilia, old photographs, or other items that might be associated with hobbies or interests commonly enjoyed by men. Residents can spend time in this space, reminiscing, sharing stories, or simply enjoying the familiar environment.

St. Patrick's Day

Quiz night

Create a bit of a pub vibe in your home by hosting a quiz night. And don't forget to serve some Guinness and Irish whiskey!

Here are some example quiz questions to get you started...

- Name the capital city of Ireland?
- What is the nickname for people from Dublin?
- What is the national symbol of Ireland?
- Which currency is used in Ireland?
- The Irish language is called?
- What is the name of the mythical creature often associated with Ireland?
- What is the traditional Irish dance?
- What is the name of the largest island of Ireland?
- What is a traditional Irish bread?

Create an Irish party atmosphere

Play Irish music, decorate the home, and encourage everyone to wear green.

St. David's Day

Focus on daffodils

Display daffodils, the national flower of Wales, throughout your home. You could also ask your residents to make paper daffodils if they're feeling creative. See the video below for tips!

Celebrate Welsh food

Leek & potato soup, Welsh rarebit, and Welsh cakes are all great options to serve on St David's Day.

St. George's Day

St. George's Day feast

Prepare a traditional English lunch with a twist! Serve classic dishes like fish and chips, but add a touch of sensory fun. Use brightly coloured plates and napkins, offer different textures in the food (crispy fish, fluffy chips, mushy peas), and play upbeat songs from English music artists, like The Beatles, in the background.

St. George's Day bingo

Create a special St. George's Day themed bingo card with questions about England. Award small prizes for the winners to add to the celebratory spirit.

Craft corner

Set up a crafting area with materials like red and white crepe paper, paint, fabric, or pipe cleaners. Residents can create St. George's Day flags, paper crowns, or dragon masks.

St. Andrew's Day

'Care for a Ceilidh'

A ceilidh is the traditional name for a Scottish gathering or party which includes, music, food and dancing – so there is something for everyone to enjoy! Play Scottish music, enjoy a traditional dish, such as haggis or cock-a-leekie soup, and soak up the energetic sounds of bagpipes, fiddles, and accordions. Residents or carers could even dress up in kilts or Tam o' Shanter hats to fully embrace the culture.

Feast on Scottish delicacies

Why not embrace St Andrew's fishing heritage by making a classic Cullen Skink. This is a creamy, thick and hearty soup traditionally made with smoked haddock. Perfect for lunch or dinner, especially in November when the weather is colder! If you're wanting something a little sweet, why not make shortbread with the residents or put your own twist on a traditional cranachan dessert.

Host your own highland games...

From welly tossing to haggis hurling, enjoy the fun and soak up the laughter as you put your own spin on the games! These games need minimal equipment but can bring so much joy to the residents as they join in the fun. This is a great way for residents to socialise too.

Halloween

Pumpkin painting competition

A less messy alternative to carving, perfect for those with limited mobility. Provide a variety of colours and textures for residents to explore.

Create spooky decorations

Engage residents in creating paper bats, ghosts, or spiders. Consider using larger, easier-to-handle materials for those with dexterity challenges.

Halloween themed dancing & exercises

Create a festive mood with Halloween-themed tunes. Encourage residents to move and sway to the music, even if they can only tap their feet.

Christmas

Christmas Around the World

Explore different Christmas traditions from various countries. This could involve trying different festive foods, learning about different customs, or even decorating a small area of the care home to represent a different culture.

Winter Wonderland Sensory Experience

Create a dedicated winter wonderland space. This could involve using white sheets and fabrics, fairy lights, artificial snow, and winter-themed scents (pine, cinnamon). Play calming winter music and offer sensory items like soft textures, ice packs (used safely), and winter-themed objects. This provides a calming and immersive experience, particularly beneficial for residents with dementia.

Intergenerational Christmas Party

Partner with a local school or youth group to host a joint Christmas party. This allows residents to interact with younger generations, sharing stories and creating new memories. Children could perform carols or plays, and residents could share their own Christmas experiences.

Virtual Christmas Market

Create a “virtual” Christmas market experience by projecting images or videos of bustling markets onto a screen. Play festive music and offer small samples of traditional market treats like gingerbread, bratwurst, roasted nuts, or mulled wine. This brings the atmosphere of the market to the residents.

Reverse Advent Calendar

Instead of receiving a treat each day, residents and staff contribute items (non-perishable food, toiletries, small gifts) to a box each day of Advent. These items are then donated to a local food bank or charity before Christmas.

New Year's Eve

Around the World New Year's Eve Celebration

Since different countries celebrate New Year at different times, you could celebrate each time zone as it reaches midnight. This could involve learning about different New Year's traditions from around the world or trying different foods.

New Year's Eve Through the Decades Party

Decorate different areas of the care home to represent different decades, perhaps the 50s, 60s, 70s, and 80s. Play music from each era, encourage residents and staff to dress up in themed costumes, and serve food and drinks popular during those times. This creates a nostalgic and engaging experience, sparking memories and conversations.

Auld Lang Syne Singalong and Toast

As midnight approaches (or at a more suitable time for residents), gather everyone together for a rendition of "Auld Lang Syne." Provide alcoholic drinks or juice for a toast to the new year. This classic tradition fosters a sense of unity and shared experience.

Ingredients

Working with food

As well as providing essential calories and nutrition, food can also provide the perfect catalyst for social interaction and cognitive activity. We've put together some great ideas about how you can use food to get cogs turning and creativity flowing in your care home.

Decorating sweet treats

Reignite the creative flair within your residents with an afternoon activity of decorating sweet treats!

Whether it's decorating cookies or cupcakes, this engaging activity is perfect for all skill levels and a guaranteed recipe for smiles! An ideal activity for residents who may have family visiting so they have something to share with them.

Can you...

Recreate the

If using fondant, shaped cutters may be useful.

Benefits

- ✓ Encourages social interaction amongst residents and may spark conversations about memories they have from baking in their younger years
- ✓ Allows residents to express their creativity
- ✓ Relaxing and therapeutic sensory activity
- ✓ Helps with fine motor skills
- ✓ Stimulates sensory experiences with textures, colours, and flavours.

Kneading dough

Bring the joys of baking to life with a hands-on dough kneading activity!

Kneading is a therapeutic and satisfying activity which will stimulate the senses of residents and evoke fond memories of baking in their younger years. Whether you opt to make bread, rolls or pasta, we're sure residents will love this!

You will need (activity dependent)

Flour to dust surfaces

Pre-made bread mixtures

Pre-made pizza dough balls

Benefits

- ✓ A fantastic distraction from outside concerns and worries.
- ✓ Extremely soothing for those who suffer with anxiety.
- ✓ The smells, flavours, and hands-on experience can evoke cherished memories and foster positive connections to those special moments.
- ✓ Gives residents a sense of independence as they have a task which will give them something tangible they can use, gift or eat.
- ✓ Kneading can be beneficial for those who suffer with arthritis in the hands and fingers

Build your own pizza

Wanting to create a deliciously interactive and creative experience for all to enjoy? Why not host a Build Your Own Pizza evening?!

Allow residents to personalise their pizzas with a variety of toppings such as fresh vegetables, meats, cheeses, and sauces. This is an enjoyable activity for all skill levels, and the hands-on process of assembling the pizzas allows for self-expression and engagement

You will need

Pizza dough mixture or pre rolled doughs

Alternatively, use pre-made bases

Pizza sauce

Toppings; cheese, vegetables, meats, pineapple and more!

Benefits

- ✓ Encourages creativity
- Promotes sensory stimulation with the variety of textures, smells, and tastes involved.
- ✓ The hands-on preparation supports their fine motor skills.
- ✓ A great way for residents to interact, socialise and work together.
- ✓ Helps with hand eye co-ordination.

Biscuit Jenga

Ready to add a playful twist on the classic Jenga game? Residents will carefully stack the biscuits piece by piece to create a tower like shape without letting it collapse.

This fun and light hearted activity encourages focus, patience, and a bit of friendly competition. It really is such a fun game to get involved in, and once the tower tumbles down, everyone can enjoy the biscuits together... if they haven't already been pinched as a snack throughout the game!

You will need

Biscuits! Either opt for wrapped or unwrapped biscuits to create the tower.

Benefits

- ✓ Helps with hand eye co-ordination
- ✓ Ideal for non-verbal patients as there is no verbal reasoning involved
- ✓ Provides a relaxed and enjoyable way to engage residents.
- ✓ Makes snack time more engaging and fun!

Tip

For those who struggle with shaking, KitKats, Blue Ribbands and other similar wrapped biscuits will be easier to assemble

Games with food

If you're looking for new ways to help your residents relax and have a little fun in your care home, then look no further! We've put together a selection of light-hearted activities to entertain your residents.

Tip

This could be a seasonal activity to decorate the home for specific months or days, such as Valentines, Easter, Halloween, Christmas and more

Colouring in

Why choose colouring in? Not only is colouring in great for sparking the resident's creativity, it is also ideal for improving moods, relieving stress, and allows residents to relax. The residents will also be able to socialise with one another throughout this activity and compare their artwork.

Food Bingo

This is an all-time classic game and is set to be a favourite amongst your residents! Bingo is great as it encourages socialisation amongst residents of all capabilities, boosts brain function among those with dementia or Alzheimer's and most importantly, it's fun! This would also be a great activity for visiting family members to get involved in too.

World on a plate

Transport your residents to another country through music, food and more, embracing cultures from across the globe.

Whether you opt for a full themed week, or just a day, we've come up with lots of ideas to make the days run as smooth as possible whilst making sure the residents have the best experience possible and enjoy themselves.

Menu ideas

Make your own pizza. Whether residents opt for a traditional margarita, or experiment with their own mix of toppings, this is a fun way to involve them in making their own meal, trying new toppings and gives them the freedom to choose exactly what they want.

Spaghetti bolognese. A classic dish loved by so many. Serve with garlic and maybe even a side salad to add some colour to residents plates! Plus, this is a great meal for hiding or blending vegetables into!

Gelato / ice cream treat. Whether you serve on its own, in a cone or allow residents to decorate with toppings, no one can turn down an ice cream sweet treat! This could be for a weekly treat, a dessert or a hot day treat sat outside.

Minestrone. This hearty dish is great for using up veggies you have left in the fridge, gets fluids into your residents and tastes delicious too!

Lasagne. Another Italian classic! Make from scratch, or save yourself some time in the kitchen and opt for our cook from frozen option.

Activities

Word game

How many words can we make from this dish? Here's some works you could use;

- Lasagne
- Spaghetti bolognese
- Panettone
- Bruschetta

E.g. Spaghetti bolognese; sign, noise, page etc. Lasagne; leg, sea etc.

Greetings from Mexico

Great Britain

Menu ideas

Afternoon tea. A quintessentially British treat! This would be a special meal for residents to enjoy with one another for a social afternoon activity. With sandwiches, and a selection of sweet and savoury treats on offer, residents will be delighted.

Fish and chips. Whether you're serving with mushy peas or gravy, we are sure this will go down a treat with your residents!

Cottage pie. A classic winter warmer dish. This is a great dish for hiding vegetables, and can be easily blended for those who struggle with dysphagia and swallowing. It also tastes delicious too!

Bread and butter pudding. A classic dessert. Whether you're serving with cream or custard, residents will love this as a treat.

Broth. Another winter warmer. This hearty dish is a staple in the colder months and is a true British classic!

And finally, a classic roast dinner. Serve with all the trimmings and finish with a lovely rich gravy. No one can resist this dish!

Activities

British landmarks

Paint, draw or simply colour in the British landmarks and encourage conversation amongst residents. This is a nice, simple activity which promotes communication amongst residents and may spark memories which they would like to share with residents or their carers.

Stay hydrated

Naturally, our body loses water through breathing, sweating and digestion so it is vital that residents are kept hydrated through fluids and eating foods that have a high water content.

Preventing residents from becoming dehydrated is very important, however we do understand the struggles care homes face when it comes to getting residents to drink. So, if you are struggling to get liquid into your residents, here are some fun games and activities which you could use within your homes!

50's Night with Milkshakes

Residents could choose and decorate a milkshake of their choice, whilst watching a movie from the 50's and reminiscing on their youth or younger years.

Our range of Shmoo milkshakes are great for this activity. They are easy to make and are available in several flavours. There are also lots of topping residents can taste and use to decorate their milkshake with too!

Mocktail Party

Whether it's for a residents birthday, to celebrate the beginning of summer or just a weekend treat, mocktails are a great option for getting fluids into residents without it feeling like a chore!

This is a fun, engaging and exciting treat for them to enjoy with other residents, or with family members on special occasions.

Our range of Monin syrups will work perfectly for this too!

Guess the drink

With drinks you may already have in the store cupboard, or with the introduction of new drinks and flavours, challenge your residents taste buds and see if they can guess the flavours of different drinks or guess what they drinks are.

How to play

Put the different fluids in opaque bottles (or use blindfolds!) with straws and allow the resident to take a sip until they can guess the drink or the flavours. This is such a great game for residents to engage with one another too as they can compare their guesses!

Not only does this game make sure residents are getting some fluids into their system, but it may give residents the chance to try different flavours or drinks they haven't tasted in years too!

Tip

Need a game with a little less preparation? How about playing...

Take a sip

This is a simple, easy and engaging game for all to play. It has barely any preparation and can be played as regular as you want!

How to play

Simply ensure all residents have a drink in front of them and then begin calling out different prompts to get residents to drink! For example, "take a sip if you are wearing glasses" or "take a sip if you are wearing a cardigan." This is a clever game for getting residents to drink, but also to think about their surroundings and keep their mind engaged.

Join us for our Dysphagia Workshops

Must-visit events for caterers in the healthcare sector.

These essential workshops are designed for healthcare sector caterers seeking to enhance their skillset in preparing dysphagia-friendly meals.

We've teamed up with Gary Brailsford of Dining with Dignity for this opportunity to explore innovative and straightforward approaches to crafting meals that are both nutritious and enjoyable for individuals with dysphagia.

Gary will guide you through the key aspects of meal preparation, cooking, and presentation, ensuring that your meals are suitable for residents with dysphagia.
